See How They Run by Philip King
Directed by Bill Brewer

Oct. 19,20,21; Oct. 25, 26,27,28

by Philip King
directed by Bill Brewer

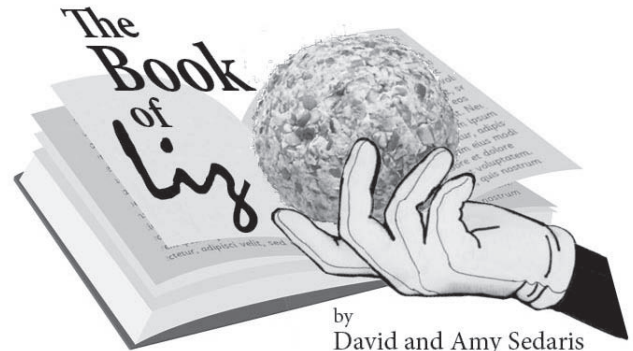

This WWII-era farce involves a cast of characters galloping in and out of the four doors of an English vicarage: an American actor and actress (he is now stationed with the air force in England), a cockney maid who has seen too many American movies, an old maid who "touches alcohol for the first time in her life," four men in clergyman suits presenting the problem of which is which (disguised as one is an escaped prisoner), and a sedate Bishop aghast at all these goings on and the trumped up stories they tell him.

The Book of Liz by Amy and David Sedaris Directed by Rebecca Howard

Feb. 15,16,17 Feb. 21,22,23

The cheese ball is the spherical center of this delightfully off-key, off-color hymn to clichés we all live by. This collaborative story considers, among other things, the American love for Americana, 12-step programs, and spiritualism, as well as alternative medicine, gay waiters, and, oh yes—the trials and tribulations (and unexpected benefits) of excessive perspiration.

The Comedy of Errors by William Shakespeare
Directed by Carly McFadden

May 16,17,18,19

by William Shakespeare
directed by Carly McFadden

One of Shakespeare's earliest plays, as well as his shortest and most farcical, this comedy tells the story of two sets of identical twins that were accidentally separated at birth. A series of wild mishaps based on mistaken identities ensues, leading to a near-seduction, arrests, and false accusations of infidelity, theft, madness, and demonic possession.
