Oh, Coward!

Music and Lyrics by Noël Coward Production devised by Roderick Cook directed by Rebecca Howard

Oct. 20, 21, & 22

"Weaving together songs and literary delights, Oh, Coward! celebrates one of the theatre's greatest entertainers, Noël Coward. His effervescent music and charming quips combine for an unforgettable evening of the most memorable tunes of the twentieth century. In countless songs, musicals and plays (including the beloved Private Lives and Blithe Spirit), the multi-talented Coward made an indelible mark on the international theatrical landscape with his unique 'talent to amuse.'" (~Music Theater International)

"A modest, thoroughly diverting evening in the company of a master wordsmith. This is a musical evening in which the words point the way. Oh, Coward! lets Sir Noël speak for himself." New York Times

The Gin Game

by D.L. Coburn
directed by Virgil Seger

Feb. 16, 17, 18 and 23, 24, 25

"This winner of the 1978 Pulitzer Prize for Drama, which originally starred Jessica Tandy and Hume Cronyn and was later revived with Julie Harris and Charles Durning, uses a card game as a metaphor for life. Weller Martin is playing solitaire on the porch of a seedy nursing home. Enter Fonsia Dorsey, a prim, self-righteous lady. They discover they both dislike the home and enjoy gin rummy, so they begin to play and to reveal intimate details of their lives. What follows is a witty and compelling exploration of love, loss, bitterness, and desire." (~Samuel French)

"Perfect [...] A vibrant study on loneliness, disillusion, old age and death yet fiercely funny." – The Boston Globe

The Other Place

by Sharr White
directed by S. Michael McVey

Apr. 20, 21, 22 and 27, 28, 29

"Just as Juliana Smithton's research leads to a potential breakthrough, her life takes a disorienting turn. During a lecture to colleagues at an exclusive beach resort, she glimpses an enigmatic young woman in a yellow bikini amidst the crowd of business suits. One step at a time, a mystery unravels as contradictory evidence, blurred truth and fragmented memories collide in a cottage on the windswept shores of Cape Cod." (~Dramatists Play Service)

"...a haunting drama...so cleverly constructed that the nature and depth of the problem isn't revealed until the last shattering scene."
—Variety.
