Two nights only! One of the most popular musicals in a deliciously goofy revue centers on four young, eager performers who survive a car crash in the 1950s on the way to their first big show. Miraculously revived for the posthumous chance to fulfill their dream, they perform the show that never was. Steve Baker, Christian Smith — three of them OxACT veterans — will perform the show. Directed by Sue Combs, the musical numbers include Swing Soul, Lady of Spain, She Loves You, Sixteen Tons, and other favorites. By Stuart Ross and James Raitt.

Wacky bunch of misfits! Set in Queens, N.Y., in 1965, the play watches as the Pope makes his first trip to the U.S. to meet the President. Among those watching is Artie Shaughnessy, a zookeeper who wants to be a famous songwriter . . . his wife Bananas, who's had a breakdown . . . his girlfriend Bunny Flingus, a vision of a woman who can float an oceanliner . . . his son Ronnie, AWOL from the military . . . a famous Hollywood director, a starlet and three other people. This comedy; but once seen, never forgotten. Written by Master! Eleven women talking . . . with YOU! This play consists of monologues are delivered from such diverse backgrounds: a show rider to an actress, a housewife to a baton twirler, a snake handler. There is a balance between the rural and the urban, the tragic with the comic as the playwright presents a balance of pain and humor. Some are ironic, some are amazing and some are funny. At the end of the evening, you will be captivated by the lives of these women. By Michael McVey.

In the '50s, The Rainmaker is a modern classic! It's the unconditional love of a father for his family and God, the grace and chance we need to achieve for ourselves, and the romantic love we all hope for in our adult lives. The movie starred Lizabeth Scott and Burt Lancaster as Starbuck. "I fell in love with the play of The Rainmaker when I was in my early teens," says the playwright. Its truth and poetic beauty has stayed with me ever since. Come see it now and to bring its enduring story of renewal, hope and
